

How Do I Join an Existing Workplace, School, or Team?

Once you have joined the National Bike Challenge and created your Strava account, you can join an existing Challenge team by searching for the team's name using the search bar on www.strava.com. Once you have located the Challenge team on the Strava website, you can select the orange button "join club" if the group is public, or the orange button "request to join" if the group is private. If the club is private, the administrator of the club will need to accept club members within Strava before they can join the group. As long as all participants are signed up for the National Bike Challenge, once they have joined a club as a participant they will be automatically imported into the National Bike Challenge.
